Each guest received a place favor a pink basket fashioned of rose leaves and filled with candy. The guests included the Misses Florence and Virginia Guthrie, Dorothy McInerney, Marie Lawrence, Geraldine Toeppe, Dorothy Langenbaum, Natalie Smith, Mary Virginia Cook, Marie Kersey, Evelyn Shidler, Ruth Clark, Genevieve Shidler, Catherine Hall Smith, Josephine Dagan, Ermagarden and Marguerite Freymuth, Mildred Zangler, Lily Deitz and Antonette Crockett.

Mrs. David Franklin Houston is often called the busiest woman in the cabinet circle.

She has two little toddlers in her home, the youngest of whom is not more than a year old. And then there is a boy somewhere between 14 and 15, who is just at the age when his bright, vivacious mind must be continually filled with new information of the right kind.

Despite her many duties of one kind and another, Mrs. Houston does not employ a social secretary. She personally answers hundreds of invitations and responds to the many appeals made upon the wife of a public man.

By the way, Mrs. Houston's husband is the secretary of agriculture.

She was born in Austin, Texas, and spent her early girlhood there. Later she taught school in the same place.

Sociological questions interested her at one time and while a resident in St. Louis for some years, she allied herself with club organizations.

But the real big interest in her heart is the nursery: the sunniest, largest room in the house.

And the care of her three children is the big business of her busy life.

Though the wife of a public man, she maintains that her chief duties are those of a wife and mother, rather than that of the social leader.

Jenkins and N. Wheeler. Mrs. George Taylor had charge of the program and Mrs. Homer Welton presented a very interesting paper on "Tendencies of the Foreigner in America"; Mrs. George Taylor, a leaflet on "Let Rum Alone"; and Mrs. J. H. Stansbury a leaflet on "The Land of Promise."

The hostesses served refreshments to 43 during the social hour. The society will hold its next meeting May 19 at the home of Mrs. William Weaver, 1221 Miami st.

MOST POPULAR HAT IN PARIS JUST NOW

This is the most popular hat in Paris just now. You see them on milady driving in the Bois and on Lisette over in the Latin quarter. Indeed so much is the shape and style seen that before we get them over here they will be a thing of the past in the mind of the fickle Parisienne. The hat is a perfect plaque of the straw or hemp braid, built up in the back on a bandeau showing either a full ribbon bow or flower, and a wreath of flowers about the top and a band of ribbon or velvet to hold it down at the side. The color is almost always white with yellow and black, although these hats are seen in every color of straw and trimming.

EDWARD BAXTER PERRY

The celebrated blind pianist, who gave so fine a recital at Mishawaka, is a great lover of the Starr piano. He used a magnificent Starr grand as his medium of expression and uses it for all his concerts. He regards it as the best piano. The Starr grand piano will again be used at the annual May festival.

CAROLINE COE'S FAMOUS RECIPES

SPAGHETTI ITALIAN STYLE.

Use one-half package of spaghetti boiled in two quarts of water until tender. Take one-quarter pound of very thinly sliced bacon cut in squares. Fry them in a skillet with two cloves. After the bacon is crisp, skim out pieces and slice in one medium sized onion and two cloves of garlic and each clove cut in half. Fry a delicate brown. Take out the pieces of garlic and pour on one quart of soup stock, one can of tomato paste. When all is well incorporated and hot add bacon and spaghetti. Cook slowly for one-half hour, adding a little more stock if needed.

Serve with parmesan cheese sprinkled thickly over each portion.

STUFFED ONIONS.

Boil large-sized onions until tender, allowing one for each person to be served. When they can be pierced with a fork drain and set aside to cool. Take great care to keep the shape perfect. When cool, with sharp knife remove centers. Mix three tablespoons of minced ham, three tablespoons of bread crumbs, one tablespoon of butter, one egg, three tablespoons of milk together. Salt to taste. Fill the space in each onion with the mixture. Put into baking dish. Dot each onion with butter. Add one cup of sweet cream. Sprinkle with bread crumbs. Bake in slow oven half an hour.

LENTIL CROQUETTES.

Wash one cup of lentils and one-half cup of dry kidney beans. Put over slow fire in three cups of cold water. Allow to heat slowly and when nearly at boiling point add one stalk of celery and one-half of a small onion. Cook until soft enough to be forced through a sieve. Salt to taste, dash of pepper and one teaspoon of minced parsley. Beat together, then fold in one scant cup of fine bread crumbs. Make thick white sauce by creaming two tablespoons of flour with two teaspoons of butter. Add this mixture to one scant cup of milk. Cook in double boiler until thick and smooth. Stir in lentils. Mix thoroughly. Shape and set aside for three or four hours. Dip in egg. Roll in fine crumbs and fry in deep hot fat.

CREAM OF LETTUCE SOUP.

Use coarse leaves of lettuce or any that has become a little wilted. Wash, tear in pieces or chop not too fine. Put in double boiler with a little onion or few celery tops. Cook until all may be mashed. Put through soup strainer. To each cup of lettuce pulp add one and one-half cups of milk, one teaspoon of butter blended with one-half teaspoon of flour. Boil all up quickly. Salt after taking from fire. Serve with toast squares.

LETTUCE ROLLS.

Use the large crisp leaves. Sprinkle lightly with salt and paprika. Spread with layer of cooked salad dressing, mixed with any cream cheese; roll up, set on ice for half an hour and serve with toasted crackers.

The Big Garment Sale at Ellsworth's

For this week's garment selling we made a thorough search of the New York Market and we selected these Coats and Suits most carefully; made spot cash offers which were accepted by manufacturers for garments which have all the style that Suits and Coats the big State Street Stores sell for from $5.00 to $25.00 more than we ask.

Now the above is a terse fact proven by many who have gone over to Chicago, seen what they sell there, examined prices and returned satisfied that this good old home store is in a position to do a whole lot more for its customers than any other four walls that contain merchandise.

A shining galaxy of glorious silk coats, soft textures, beautiful linings, clever trimmings. These carefully selected Coats appeal to any woman who ever wore a coat. Every desirable shade and the cut, style and finish of these garments from New York's latest models are so very desirable that one has only to see them to be enchanted. Buying made easy too, as prices are surprisingly low.

The New Silk Suits are dreams. Nowhere in Indiana can you find a line of silk suits equal to ours. We have sold a lot of Indianapolis and Chicago people their clothes this season and they say neither our styles nor our prices are equalled in any store they've been to this year.

You find this store different and better. We are at your service. We are out-selling them all because we give most for the money spent here. We are in position to do this being outside the high rent section of the city for one reason; then, there are others, but why babble?

Judge our coats and suits by their beauty, then their prices are for suits $10, $15, $18, $25, $32.50, $39.50. Coat prices $5.50, $10, $15, $25.
